

Celebrations

Life is often a bittersweet collection of moments. Most of the times these memorable moments are events of varying qualities that could even influence the way we look at life. And there are those events that change the way we live life itself. These moving events could be small or big, but their impact extends beyond us including our loved ones. In the next twelve leaves, we bring to you those moving moments at Zulekha Hospitals that have defined our brand of caring and nurturing life in all its shades.
